ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

Positioned on a large corner plot on one of Wickford's quieter established crescents, this detached four-bedroom home has been refurbished throughout – and the standard of finish is immediately obvious.

The plot is the first thing you notice. A newly landscaped frontage gives block-paved parking for up to five cars, with an electric door opening into an alarmed garage with power, lighting and roof storage – a genuinely useful space rather than somewhere to put the bins. Two separate side entrances mean the house is fully detached and unoverlooked on every side, with an outside tap to one flank.

Inside, a bright entrance hall. All doors are new with the exception of the understairs cupboard. The double doors leads to a generous storage cupboard. Large under stairs cupboard. Large door leads to an extremely grand cloakroom, big enough to take a shower should a future owner want one. The kitchen has been fully refitted with a breakfast bar, integrated appliances still under guarantee, and windows to two aspects that keep it light all day plus side door access. Across the hall, the lounge runs to nearly nineteen feet, with a mock fireplace, twin radiators and new double-glazed doors opening into the conservatory.

That conservatory is the room this family finds extremely useful with ceiling and window blinds. It faces south-west over a landscaped garden of block paving and low-maintenance artificial lawn, with a summerhouse and a further shed to the side – a garden built for long evenings rather than weekend mowing.

Upstairs are four bedrooms and a family bathroom with both bath and separate shower. The principal bedroom is a comfortable double served by an en-suite newly fitted screen and doors. Two further bedrooms sit to the front and rear, and the fourth works equally well as a dressing room, nursery or home office, with mirrored wardrobes. The loft is a good size – lit, lagged and boarded.

An EPC rating of C keeps running costs sensible, and the house is ready to move into with nothing left to do.
